The application converts his currency, presents an empty form, and displays other currencies conversions.

The bottom panel is scrollable, top to bottom, and can be pulled right to see additional "spark chart" data.

The default currency is dollars, but Joey can change it in settings. For now, he leaves it set to dollars.

Joey wants to view a chart showing the dollar vs. euro over time.

The screenshot shows the top part of the app. At the top left is a home icon and at the top right is a settings gear icon. Below these are two buttons: 'USD' and 'EUR'. Underneath are two input fields: the first contains '$ 0.00' and the second contains '€ 0.00', separated by an equals sign. Below the input fields is a label 'Amount:' followed by an empty text input box. At the bottom are two buttons: 'Chart' and 'Convert'.

Joey clicks the "Chart" button

This screenshot shows the app after the 'Chart' button was clicked. The top section is identical to the previous screenshot. Below the 'Chart' and 'Convert' buttons, a new section has appeared. It contains a line chart with a fluctuating line representing the exchange rate over time. Below the chart are three buttons: '1 W', '1 M', and '1 Y'.

The application displays a chart showing the value of the euro compared to the dollar over time.

Joey can change the time period of interest by clicking the buttons below the chart. He can choose 1 week, 1 month, or 1 year of data.

Joey wants to change his default currency or color scheme.

The home screen of the application features a home icon (house) in the top left and a settings icon (gear) in the top right. Below the icons, there are two currency selection buttons: 'USD' and 'EUR'. Underneath these is a display showing '$ 0.00' followed by an equals sign and '€ 0.00'. Below the display is a label 'Amount:' followed by an empty input field. At the bottom of the screen are two buttons: 'Chart' and 'Convert'.

Joey clicks the "Settings" icon

Joey clicks the "Home" icon.

The settings screen features a home icon (house) in the top left and a settings icon (gear) in the top right. It displays three settings: 'Primary Currency' with a 'USD' button, 'Secondary Currency' with a 'EUR' button, and 'Color Scheme' with a 'Light' button. At the bottom of the screen are two buttons: 'Cancel' and 'Save'.

The application displays a list of user-selectable default settings.

These settings present as a drop-down list of choices.

Joey saves his choices.
